

WOMEN BUILD 26

Week of May 4th, 2026

Together, We Build Each Other Up.

WHY WOMEN BUILD?

Chatham Habitat's Women Build: A Fundraising Event

Locally, women come together to take action against substandard housing through fundraising and volunteer projects, making a lasting impact in our community.

Why Your Participation & Support Makes a Difference

- It's more than just building a home - it's building a better future and a strong foundation for women and families in our community.
- Women, especially those who serve as heads of households and women of color, disproportionately face obstacles that make accessing safe, healthy, affordable housing seem impossible.
- At Chatham Habitat, we know that safe, stable housing is transformative for women and their families.
- When families have a safe, healthy, affordable place to call home, they are more likely to be healthier, attain higher levels of education, and build more wealth.
- Through sponsorships and fundraising, we will come together to support the construction for families in our community.

HOMEOWNERS

These women are Habitat homeowners who built their homes, they built their families, and they are building our community.

Alma Cervantes

Alma and her husband Pablo were both born in Mexico in a very rural area. They have 4 children, three girls and one boy. Alma works in the cleaning industry, and Pablo works in the roofing industry. They have both been at their jobs steadily for many years, hoping one day to have a home of their own.

Lucy Figueroa

Lucy works at ACE Electric, where she is responsible for maintaining safety in all areas. She is the mother of three sons: Josue, 25, Junior, 17, and Gael, 15, and they have two dogs. They look forward to hosting family and friends in a safer neighborhood and finally having a real home to call her own.

Blanca Bruno

Blanca is a teacher at Alphabet Soup daycare and she has 5 kids and 1 grandson. Her 3 youngest will be living with her in her new house in Goldston, where they are looking forward to having a garden and enjoy nature together as a family.
